

Aging Relational Care Covid19 (ARC) STUDY

Survey of Healthcare Providers Caring for Older People in Ontario during the COVID-19 Pandemic

Study Title: Co-creating innovative strategies to address the wellbeing of older persons and their healthcare providers during the COVID-19 pandemic.

We are interested in hearing about your experience providing relational care for older people in your work setting during COVID-19, and about the strategies you used and resources you needed to care for older people in Ontario.

We are also interested in exploring the effect of the pandemic on your clinical work and mental health, and what mental health self care resources and strategies you are using/used and/or needed during the pandemic.

Please complete this 30-45 minute survey at: <https://survey.ryerson.ca/s?s=9771>

Link to the study website is: <https://www.agingrelationalcare.ca>

This study received funded from The Ministry of Colleges and Universities.
This study received approval from Ryerson University's Research Ethics Board (REB#2020-230).

If you have any questions, please contact:

Professor Sepali Guruge at sguruge@ryerson.ca or 416-979-5000 ext. 554964 or Professor Lori Schindel Martin at lori.schindelmartin@ryerson.ca or 416-979-5000 ext. 554257 or
The Research Assistants at ARC_Covid19@ryerson.ca

An honorarium of $50 will be provided in consideration of your time in participating in this study.

Thank you very much for your participation!

Aging Relational Care Covid19 (ARC) Research Team